The Global Growth of IAPP Certifications

Since 2013, the adoption of IAPP certifications has grown at a rapid pace, fueled by technological developments, consumer demand for privacy and data protection practices, and new regulations across the globe. Indeed, the EU's General Data Protection Regulation has taken the CIPP/E certification and made it, alongside the CIPM certification that documents competence in privacy program management, the global standard for demonstration of professional credentials in privacy and data protection.
